Following Jesus...

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor
jroberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff__Roberts

This coming week we will send away over 100 members to serve on mission. The following week will be another mission opportunity in which over 50 members will participate. When I write statements like this, I am aware of how common this has become at our congregation. What use to make us stand in awe has become the routine of our church on mission. I think this is a positive change and one that could become negative. On the positive side, we are grateful that so many Trinity members spend their free time, money and energy going to minister in places around our nation and world. I am thankful that such mission trips and partnerships are as much of our congregational life as Sunday School and Wednesday night programs. However, the negative of the routine is to miss the importance of such moments and opportunities. We must remember as a congregation to pray of the work that lays ahead for those who will be going. We need to remember the partnerships which continue the work after we come and go. Also, we must not get comfortable and think others will go or that those who do not go on such trips do not also have a place to serve right here in our community. In other words, our calling to mission is not fulfilled because we have a large group of people going on mission trips. We bless these efforts and we remind ourselves of those we met every day at work, school and play who need Christ.

The mission trip is not only a ministry with our partners but it is a time for God to change the one who goes. Many who go on mission trips come home with a new perspective on

Southern Season, Morgan Imports & Brightleaf Square

Wednesday, July 30

9:00am-4:30pm

Cost: Lunch at the Weathervane ($10-$20)

We'll travel to Chapel Hill for a morning of shopping at Southern Season, where a belief in southern hospitality and a passion for the art of entertaining results in the breadth and quality of its gourmet foods, wines, housewares and cookware. After shopping we'll choose lunch from the sophisticated southern fare on The Weathervane's menu. Then we'll head to Durham where we'll browse the fine shops and boutiques of Brightleaf Square before crossing the street to shop at Morgan Imports, a unique home furnishings and gift shop.

Join us for this fun day. It does include a good bit of walking, so let Kathy Driver know in advance if you will need a wheel chair. If you have questions, call Kathy at 919-621-0236.

Jobs For Life

Begins Sunday, September 14

TBC has partnered with Jobs for Life (JfL) to help those who are underemployed or unemployed in our community to learn about God's plan for work, discover road blocks in their lives to getting a job, and gaining the skills and confidence to do an effective job search. This is done through an excellent curriculum provided by JfL. The Lead Team is ready to offer its 14th class this fall.

If you or someone you know is interested in being a student in this class, please contact the church office (hmelton@tbcraleigh.com or 919-787-3740) to receive an application. Applications are due into the office by Sunday, August 31.

Clothing Needed For Mission in McCreary Co, Kentucky

Urgent Request

Girls & Boys Summer Clothes:
Sizes 3-16

Summer is here in full force! It gets just as hot and humid in KY as it does in NC! The Clothing Closets are already nearly out of kids summer clothes, and there is a lot of summer left! Please bring donations of summer clothes for girls and boys, sizes 3-16.

If you don't have these items to donate, bring whatever clothing you have, they can use it! Or consider visiting NRM's Thrift Shoppe or other similar businesses to purchase items to donate to the Hills and Hollers Ministries.

Please pack items in kitchen trash bags and leave them in the box in the collection area in the B building beside the NRM Food Collection Box. They will be taken to KY with the Mission Team on Saturday, July 19th.

Music Ministry

Rev. Steve Byers, slbyers@tbcraleigh.com

I want to give a special thanks to the Adult Choir and the Trinity Orchestra for their wonderful music presentation last Sunday night in our Patriotic Celebration. What a terrific turnout we had! It has been a pleasure to work with these fine groups in preparation for this event, and we have so many people to thank for their work. We want to especially thank Jon Dees for carrying the load of sound equipment setup and to his helpers Phil Holland and Mike O'Mara for their extra help with setup. It was a great time of summer fellowship together.

Our summer worship is always a priority here at TBC and we are grateful for Mark Valletta sharing his music with us this past Sunday morning in worship.

Adult Choir, remember our rehearsals resume on July 30 in the sanctuary at 7:30 pm. We are taking a short break before we resume back for the next season.

Trinity Orchestra resumes on August 6 at 6:30 pm. This would be a great time to consider coming and joining the orchestra as we prepare for a new season of worship music. Give me a call and we will prepare for you a place!

Choir Programs begin on August 27 as a part of the regular Wednesday Night Program at Trinity. Vocal Ensembles (Living Praise and New Covenant) will begin after Labor Day on September 3.

Join A Musical Ensemble

Give some thought to joining a musical ensemble this coming fall. Living Praise and New Covenant meet on Wednesday nights during the school year. These ensembles are excellent means to learn music, to connect with other church members who serve musically, and to fellowship with other believers in our church. Ensembles begin on September 3.

Pepper Choplin Concert

August 3 • 6:00 pm

Pepper Choplin, former Minister of Music at Greystone Baptist Church here in Raleigh, will be our special guest on August 3. Pepper is an active composer, conductor and humorist and has gained a reputation as one of the most creative writers in church music today with a diverse musical background. Many of you have heard him before in concert and have enjoyed his music and humor. Our Adult Choir had the honor and privilege of singing his music at Carnegie Hall last February. Mark your calendars for this special night at Trinity.

Dr. Andy Jung, ajung@tbcraleigh.com ▲ Rev. Lydia Tatum, ltatum@tbcraleigh.com

Words from Lydia

The Tatum family has a bit of a history with blueberries. When Andrew and I first set out together in growing our family, we landed in Angier, North Carolina in a beautiful house set way back in the woods on a three acre plot of land. It was perfect for me having grown up without neighbors on a ten acre plot in Southside Virginia. On our heavily wooded lot, there was one little area we called the orchard. There we had apple trees and pear trees. And, there we planted our first little family garden. But, best of all, there we had six blueberry bushes that were six feet tall and six feet wide. They were huge, and they provided more blueberries than we could handle in one season. We would freeze many berries, but mostly we would share with our friends and family out of the surplus.

Last year we purchased a beautiful house here in Raleigh, but there is very little room for a garden with full sun. We love our trees, but we love to garden more! While on one of our weekly Logan's Nursery dates, Andrew and I stumbled across dwarf blueberry bushes that grow in containers meant for a sunny spot on a porch or in the yard. We bought two that were loaded down with berries already. And, though we knew we weren't going to get quite the yield we had in Angier, we thought it a good start.

I have done a bit of blueberry research, and after making sure your soil is nice and acidic with peat moss and healthy top soil, you plant your bushes. They need 1-2 quarts of water per day and they need a healthy mulching to keep the soil moist. But after all of that work, don't expect any berries just yet! In order for the bushes to survive the winter and establish properly, all of those beautiful little flowers that are supposed to turn to berries must be picked off so the plant can focus its energy on building its root system. If the flowers are left to fruit, the bush will put all of its energy into fruiting and the roots will remain shallow, and the bush will be unhealthy and may not survive. And, this must be done for the first FOUR growing seasons!

As I was doing all of my research, I couldn't help but see the correlation with our faith development. In Christian culture today, the books and studies that sell are ones that promise 5 easy steps to being a faithful Christian or how to build the most blessed relationship with God in just 10 weeks. I cannot help but think that these promises are a bit like a blueberry bush left to flower and fruit prematurely. You might get berries in the short term, but the bush most likely will not survive the winter. Developing deep spiritual roots takes time and care. It takes us, the blueberry bush, submitting ourselves to the Pruner, God, and the pruning that must happen in our lives. But, through this journey—or this process of watering, mulching, amending, and pruning—we have, over time, developed a firm footing in a trusting relationship with God that will bear abundant and everlasting fruit. May we have the grace to accept the pruning of our Maker and the perseverance to continue on in this "long obedience in the same direction" (Eugene Peterson).

FOLLOW
the Road

What an amazing group of girls and wonderful week at camp we had last week. We learned to Follow the Road—the way to God through Jesus Christ. Thank you for supporting us in this venture and unique camp experience. The setting was the Wizard of Oz and many themes around that story/movie. You may even want to ask our girls about becoming flying monkeys!

Along with awesome campers, we had super chaperones. Thank you Carla Babb and Sydney Babb for leading and sharing with our girls in a wonderful and camp fun way.

Words from Carla

The week of the fourth was spent at Passport Camp in Spartanburg, South Carolina with some awesome grade schoolers from our church. They worshipped our Lord with their hearts and minds. It was an awesome thing to hear them encourage one another, support one another, and grow a little closer to the Lord together. Singing, reading scripture, praying, and participating in the services was a highlight for many of them.

I pray they left with the courage and confidence to "Follow the Road" with Jesus. These are some of the words given to them from Passport Camp to help them and I find helping me too!
