Joining Hands with God

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor
jroberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff__Roberts

It was good to be back in the pulpit this past week and most of all back with you in worship and fellowship. I am so blessed to be the pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. I was sharing with someone the other day that Trinity has in a sense been my church family since I was 25. Although we were away over a decade before we returned in 2000, still we felt connected to this wonderful congregation. This means that more than half my life I have shared life and received the love of the membership of Trinity Baptist Church. It is a great gift God has given to me. I will begin this week being in the office and returning to daily work. I have been instructed by my doctor to “ease back in”, whatever that means in regard to ministry, so that is what I will attempt to do. As always, our ministerial staff, alongside me, will respond to you the best way we can.

We will begin our Sunday evening discipleship program on February 14. I am delighted that I will be joining Dr. Clay Warf in leading us in a series entitled “What Does the Bible Say About...” Our first session will be on marriage and Dr. Warf and I will lead this one together. Since it is Valentine’s Day, we encourage you to come with your spouse and let’s take a look at a Biblical overview of marriage, as well as Dr. Warf’s Ten Commandments for Marriage. We will be meeting every Sunday evening in the Chapel at 6:00 p.m.

Our schedule for the Winter is as follows:

What Does the Bible Say?

February 14	Marriage	Dr. Jeff Roberts & Dr. Clay Warf
February 21	The Bible	Dr. Warf
February 28	Heaven and Hell	Dr. Warf
March 6	Sexuality	Dr. Roberts
March 13	Role of Women	Dr. Warf
March 20	Evangelism and Those Who Have Never Heard	Dr. Roberts
March 27	(No Activities)
April 3	Money and Stewardship	Dr. Warf
April 10	War and Peace	Dr. Roberts
April 17	Citizenship	Dr. Roberts

Following Jesus... continued

Don't forget this Sunday is our Souper Bowl of Caring following Sunday School and our 10:55 Worship. The first sitting is for those who attend the 8:45 service and the second sitting is for those who attend 10:55. Stay for lunch in one of the two sittings and donate toward hunger relief in our own community what you would normally pay for your family to eat out. Our students will be in the Fellowship Hall to serve you. This is an easy way to make a difference in the lives of those who are hungry right here in Raleigh. You don't need a reservation. Just choose a sitting and participate.

Praying with Your Child

I stood over the tiny bundle lying in the bassinet and decided she was starting to look less like a prune. But she was still so helpless and I felt so inadequate. So I did the only thing I thought might help. I prayed.

“Lord, you know I’ve never been a father before. The idea used to sound like fun, but now I’m scared. I really need your help.”

That was my first of many similarly inelegant prayers I whispered late at night, standing beside my sleeping baby’s crib. I knew she could neither hear nor understand me. But I began to feel these moments of prayer were bonding me to her in a way I found very special.

Gradually, a brief prayer became part of our bedtime ritual, mixed in with the tummy rubbings, forehead stroking, chin tickling and cheek kissing that helped Kari relax and go to sleep.

Through this process, I stumbled onto a key that continued to make our prayer time meaningful, even as Kari entered adolescence. I found myself talking to God about the experiences Kari and I had shared each evening. As Kari grew and began to contribute her own prayers, she followed the same pattern of thanking God for herself and me and for the good times we shared, and of asking God’s forgiveness for failures.

Over the years our father-daughter prayer times have been among the strongest experiences in building our relationship. I have often wondered if the pattern would have been so consistent and meaningful if I had not begun practicing in those nights beside her crib. If I had waited until she was two or four and could have understood what I was saying, would I have persevered through my awkwardness or simply given it up as inappropriate for a young child?

– Wes Haystead, Parent and Author
