Joining Hands with God

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor
jroberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff_Roberts

This coming Sunday we begin the observance of the Season of Lent. I like many of us who were raised in the Baptist church did not have the opportunity to observe Lent. There were very few liturgical Baptist churches and that is still the case. However, our congregation is blessed to have many members who came from other traditions that can help us enrich our spiritual journeys through certain emphasis in the Church Year. Over the past few years, as we have observed Lent, it has become one of my favorite seasons in worship. Our emphasis on reflection, confession and assurance remind me of God's presence, forgiveness and promises. During the next few weeks, we will spend some moments in worship reflecting on our lives, confessing our sins individually and corporately and also remembering God's promise of forgiveness through Jesus Christ. These days will prepare us for a true observance of Holy Week and the Celebration that is Easter. I am looking forward to this journey through the Season of Lent with you.

I also want to inform you about something that many of you are missing that is a blessing to me. On Sunday Evenings, Dr. Clay Warf is leading us in a survey class of the New Testament. Many believe that this is another Bible Study, but it is so much more. It is a much more academic approach to the New Testament. We are learning about the New Testament background, culture, life, politics and theology. We will be studying the various themes of the New Testament. If you have ever wondered what is a "seminary class" like, then come and join us for this survey class. I am learning and relearning information that is enriching my own devotion life as well as my teaching and preaching. I hope that you will join us. We are in the Chapel each Sunday night at 6:00 p.m. No registration is necessary.

I want to say thank you for all your kind comments and the Personnel Committee's recognition of my 15 years as your pastor. Your kind gift, cards and expressions of gratitude and love are very much appreciated. I thank God for the blessing of being a part of this family of faith.

Check out www.d365.org for "Journey to the Cross" devotions and a more personal focus on Lent.

TBC's Giving Plans—Your Choice

Since 2010, Trinity has offered its members a choice of mission giving to either the NC Baptist State Convention, the Southern Baptist Convention, the NC Cooperative Baptist Fellowship, National Cooperative Baptist Fellowship, or Trinity Baptist missions.

Each year, the new budget includes an estimate of what we will give to each organization. This amount is a percentage of the undesignated offerings we receive. In addition, one half of one percent of undesignated offerings is given to the Raleigh Baptist Association.

Using the choice of designations shown on members' offering envelopes, the financial administrator applies a formula to calculate the amount of money to send to: the Raleigh Baptist Association, the NC Baptist State Convention – Southern Baptist Convention, and the NC Cooperative Baptist Fellowship - National CBF

Several examples of support from each organization include:

NC Baptist State Convention: Baptist scholarships, Baptist Retirement Homes, Baptist Children's Homes, Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, and the Biblical Recorder

NC Cooperative Baptist Fellowship: Baptist supported colleges and universities in N.C., plus scholarships to these schools, the Baptist Retirement Homes, Baptist Children's Homes, Women's Missionary Union, and the Baptist Men.

For an explanation of the formula Trinity uses in calculating percentages, contact Jan Brown, financial administrator, in the church office.

Buffet Dinner at Ron's Barn

"Ring of Fire" at Temple Theatre

Thursday, March 5 • 4:15 - 10:15 pm

Cost: $33.50 for Dinner and Show

Due Friday, February 27

We'll travel to Sanford to enjoy a wonderful buffet of seafood, barbeque and home-style cooking at Ron's Barn, then go to Temple Theatre for a production of "Ring of Fire". In "Ring of Fire", a fabulously talented cast of performers takes you into the world Johnny Cash created in his songs. Three dozen songs from the Man in Black's songbook are stitched together to depict the rough-hewn fabric of rural Americana. From the heart of the songs, comes a show about love and faith, struggle and success, rowdiness and redemption. Featured performances include 'Country Boy', 'A Thing Called Love', 'Five Feet High and Rising', 'Daddy Sang Bass', 'Ring of Fire', 'I Walk the Line', 'I've Been Everywhere', 'The Man in Black', and Johnny Cash's final hit, 'Hurt'.

These tickets will go fast! Sign-up today to reserve your seat! The above cost includes everything: meal, beverage, dessert, tax, tip and ticket. Put your check in the lock box at the end of the B Hallway not later than Friday, February 27.

Made in God's Image — to Worship God

Worship involves encountering the Lord, meeting Jesus, hearing God's word and lifting our voices in praise. Worship is not just a refueling time to get us through another week. It is not a system of traditions built-up over the years of congregational life, until we feel comfortable. It is also not a time to unwind, relax, take a mental vacation and enjoy an hour of Christian entertainment.

Worship should be the surrender of our souls to a God who is jealous for our attention, time and love. Worship is a challenge. With children it is a bigger challenge. Like most sports or activities children participate in, they learn by doing, practicing and experiencing.

Children learn to worship by worshipping—through participation, practice, and patience. The task can be overwhelming if you take it seriously. Parents or the significant caregivers in a child's life, not necessarily professionals, are known to be the best at training and teaching children to worship.

Worshipping parents in the pew can show by example what it means to seek God, to love God's Son, and to respond to the Holy Spirit in worship. Children learn that prayer is important when they see their parents make it a priority. Children learn to give generously when they witness their parent's doing it. Children dress, sing, participate by following example as well as instruction. When worship is an obvious joy to parents, children will expect to experience the same.

We value our children and their experiences at church. Let me encourage you as parents to make the most of the opportunity to share in worship with your child.

Words from Carla

From one parent to another:

As many of you know, my daughter Sydney has accepted an internship with Walt Disney World. She will be living in Orlando, Florida for the next 4 months. I tell you this to share what the Lord has placed on my heart. Little did I realize how fast time would fly from the time she carried her pink "baby" around, to the day she would pack most of her belongings and move to another state to embrace and share the gifts God has blessed her with; giving of herself and time to the world. The happiest place on earth you say, well, yes it is a great place to visit, full of excitement and fun for everyone, but at the moment Jeff and I drove off leaving her there, it did not seem very happy to us. Years and years we had tried our best to prepare her for the future. Guiding her, training her in God's word, and hours and hours of prayer have been taken to the Father for guidance, wisdom, discernment and protection. Was she ready, did we do enough; did she see us rely on God in times of adversity? Had we modeled the light of Christ for her? Would she be able to stand strong in a world that is tough, hard, and scary at times? Letting go of our little gir was hard. During this moment we experienced many emotions. We were excited for her and we knew God would use her in a mighty way. We knew that God was there before her, would be with her, and He would be with us. Yes, we miss the joy and light she brings to our family on a daily basis. Her brothers miss her humor and her hugs. As much as we miss her, we rejoice that God has placed her in an area where thousands of people will cross her path and she will be the light of Christ to them. She will not hide that light under a bushel, she will let her light shine! We are affirmed she will be fine and she is prepared for what God has laid before her. She belongs to Him and He will guide her. We are thankful she has been given this opportunity, an opportunity that was covered in prayer from the very moment she took her first breath.

Trust in the LORD with all your heart And do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, And He will make your paths straight.

– Proverbs 3:5-6
