Joining Hands with God

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor

jr Roberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff__Roberts

This past weekend, golf fans watched the defending Master's Champion, Jordan Spieth, have what has been called by some "golf's greatest collapse." Spieth, leading after three days in the tournament, entered the final day with the lead and with every indication that he would repeat as champion. After the first nine holes he held a five-stroke lead. A five-stroke lead by a champion on a difficult course like Augusta National would seem almost insurmountable. However, his "collapse" began on the 10th hole and climaxed on the 12th hole where he scored a 7 on a par 3. In just a few minutes, he went from being a champion and leading to being behind and losing what seemed impossible to lose just a few minutes before. In very dramatic terms, sports writers are describing it as a "collapse", "disaster," and "unprecedented." One even writes that at the age of 22, Spieth will have to "take this one to his grave."

Interestingly, the Master's Tournament begins on day one with the great golfer Ernie Els missing six putts from three feet away on the first hole. It was like watching a toddler at a miniature golf course trying to putt for the first time. Two great golfers will not be remembered this weekend for playing great, but rather for their failures.

Golf is a fickle sport and for those who play it they know that the difference between jubilation and utter frustration is a fine line. However, golf does teach some valuable lessons and the greatest lesson is perspective. Professional Golfers know:

- One hole does not a round make.
- One round does not a tournament make.
- One tournament does not a year make.
- One year does not a career make.
- One career does not a life make.

The hardest part for Spieth is the tradition of the past champion placing the green jacket on the new champion. Spieth, at just 22, had to gather himself and participate in the crowning of a new champion after his great moment of failure. He did so with grace and maturity.

As I have read about Jordan Spieth and his "collapse" at the Masters, I have thought about we can choose to be defined by our failures or we can choose to be defined about by what is still possible. Spieth will play again and he will probably win the Masters again if not many times again. We too must choose not to be defined by failure, but by what God has for our future. When we are tempted to be defined by failure and not possibilities let us remember the words of the Apostle Paul:

I'm not saying that I have this all together, that I have it made. But I am well on my way, reaching out for Christ, who has so wondrously reached out for me. Friends, don't get me wrong: By no means do I count myself an expert in all of this, but I've got my eye on the goal, where God is beckoning us onward—to Jesus. I'm off and running, and I'm not turning back. Philippians 4:12-14 from The Message:

Have you failed? Own up to it and confess it to God and to another if need be. But don't linger there long and let it define you. Let us be "off and running and not turning back" to the possibilities that God has for each of us.

We will be staying at the Aguada Hotel within walking distance of the worksite. And their cooks will serve us a hot breakfast and full dinner each day. One of the church families will bring our lunch to the worksite.

We will work on Saturday, then attend church with the Santa Elena Baptist Church on Sunday and take in some Mayan ruins or go cave tubing. We'll work full days Monday through Thursday, and spend our last day on the island of Caye Caulker relaxing, snorkeling, fishing or just exploring this small Caribbean paradise!

Words from Lydia

The weather is changing in a way that brings a bit of uncertainty and chaos to our morning routine at the Tatum house. We are in between wardrobes – having almost grown out of the winter wardrobe, yet it is not quite warm enough each day for the new spring/summer wardrobe that fits. Our mornings often seem to start in frenzy. When our lives begin to reflect the weather, we can quickly feel like we are in over our heads. Our calendars (or our kids’ calendars) and our never-ending to-do lists begin to set the tone for our days, and we quickly lose sight of our peace-giving, soul-satisfying faith that once was.

So, this is what we do. Take it as advice, or throw it out with the trash. But, it helps us. Each morning, we have to take a collective breath. We have to take time to breathe in God’s Spirit and let God set the tone for our day. Some mornings, when we are really on it and are donning our super-parent capes, we cuddle in and read one Bible story together and pray. Other mornings, we remember as we are swinging through the carpool line to say a quick prayer over our day. However it happens, it is important for us to begin our day with God. Will it keep us from arguing over Netflix, light sabers, and tutus? Will it keep us from growing weary from our own choice to overschedule ourselves? Will it keep us from feeling the stress from everyday life? No. But, it will help us to refocus and be reminded of the One who is in control of all things. And, the more often we acknowledge Him, the more we begin to rightly-align our desires and, eventually, our to-do lists. Take time this week to find breath in God... and bundle up in your parkas and flip flops – it’s a crazy world out there.

Becoming A Christian

We have just concluded a class with our children on becoming a Christian and becoming a church member. As we reviewed these verses, I am reminded that we all need to know what the Bible says about becoming a Christian. Use these verses for your own affirmation and when talking with anyone [young or old] about discovering Christ and choosing to live for Him.

God loves us. "God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life." – John 3:16

Everyone sins. "All have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." – Romans 3:23

Sin separates us from God. "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." – Romans 6:23

Christ died for us. "While we were still sinners, Christ died for us." – Romans 5:8

Be sorry for our sins. "Repent, then, and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out." – Acts 3:19

Believe in Jesus. "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved." Acts 16:31

Tell others about our faith in Jesus. "If you confess with your mouth, 'Jesus is Lord,' and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved." – Romans 10:9

Live in a way that pleases God. "If you love me, you will obey what I command." – John 14:15

This memorable service offers you an opportunity as a parent and family to commit with other families to raising Christ centered, others oriented children. It also gives you the opportunity to have our church to pray for God's blessings on your child and your family. The dedication service is a celebration that recognizes your child is a gift from God and makes public the church's commitment to your family and your family's commitment to the church. Please contact Katie Medlin at kmedlin@tbcraleigh.com if you would like to dedicate your child on May 8th.
