Senior Adult/Baptist Heritage Day

As a part of worship this week, we will celebrate our annual Senior Adult and Baptist Heritage Day. Our very active Senior Adult Ministry will help lead our time of worship, and we will again introduce to our congregation and honor an individual who has been influential in Baptist life. This is an important day for our congregation and members of Trinity of all ages. At Trinity we are intentionally multigenerational and we celebrate the various seasons of life in which we can be faithful to God. This Sunday, we will be led by those who have demonstrated to us a life of faithfulness and continue to lead and participate in so many of the ministries of Trinity.

This is also a day we honor an individual who has been a leader in Baptist life. We use this time to not only remember that we share ministry with other Baptist brothers and sisters, but also to encourage those who are entering vocational ministry and preparing for the future. In honor of our Baptist Heritage recipient, we make a donation toward our Baptist Heritage Scholarship at Campbell University Divinity School. As you can see, this day is not only about the past but the future and most of all... about our present calling together.

This year our Baptist Heritage recipient is Mrs. Ruby Fulbright. Ruby has recently retired as the Executive Director of the Women's Missionary Union of North Carolina. Ruby's leadership, of this important missions organization in our state, and her continued influence on women and men is greatly appreciated by Trinity and Baptists across North Carolina. We look forward to honoring her with our Baptist Heritage Award.

We will also welcome Dr. Clay Warf. Clay and his wife, Sherry, are members of Trinity and he is the Executive Director of the North Carolina Baptist Foundation. Before serving in this role, Dr. Warf served as pastor of Temple Baptist Church in Durham and Roxboro Baptist Church. He is a graduate of The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. Dr. Warf has been active in every area of Baptist life and can be found preaching in pulpits across the state, when he is not with us in worship on Sundays. It is a joy to welcome Dr. Warf to the pulpit this Sunday at Trinity.

Come join us for a very special day of worship this Sunday as we celebrate our heritage, honor those who have set the pace for us and consider how we too, can run the race set before us.

Church Conference Update:

In our April Church Conference, the following decisions and information was shared:

- We welcomed 17 new members this past month to Trinity Baptist Church.
- A Welcome Team is being formed to study and help coordinate our ability to welcome our guests throughout the time of our morning worship services and Sunday School. Johnny Teal and Bill Johnston will help coordinate this effort.
- The Facilities Master Planning Committee informed the congregation that contractor Clancy and Theys has been chosen to assist us in pre-construction services. In addition, a construction sub-committee to assist our contractor on daily decisions was formed and approved by the congregation. This committee is comprised of Shannon Rouse, John Witcher, George Mathis and Miller Warren.
- The church voted to provide classroom space, this summer, to provide training for potential foster parents in the Raleigh area.
- The Deacons recommended and the church approved that Carla Babb be recommended to the Raleigh Baptist Association Ordination Council for the purpose of seeking ordination.
- The Nominating Committee report was presented and approved.
- The Financial Report was presented approved. At the end of the first quarter the church is over $16,000 receipts over expenses.
- North Raleigh Ministries reported that 34 families were provided with Easter Baskets and the annual Purses, Pumps and Pearls fundraiser will be held in May. Donations are being received and volunteers are needed in preparing for this sale.

Senior Adult/ Baptist Heritage Day

This Sunday we observe our annual Baptist Heritage Day, at which time Trinity will recognize and honor a Baptist leader who has made a significant contribution to Baptist life either here at Trinity, in our state, country or world.

Also, as Senior Adult Day, we honor and pay special tribute to our own senior adults by celebrating the contributions they have made to the life and work of our own church.

Seniors will lead from the pulpit at both worship services. Immediately following the second service, they will be honored with a special lunch in the fellowship hall. There is no charge for the meal but seniors must make a reservation by signing the book at the B-hallway bulletin board by the April 30 deadline, if they plan to attend.

A Special Thanks to Kathy O'Mara, our TBC OIAM Coordinator! She and her Lead Team: Mike O'Mara, Hal & Brenda Lowrance and Charla Peel did an OUTSTANDING job of developing projects, recruiting 34 Project Team Leaders, and promoting the event/recruiting the

Words from Lydia

If you take a look at the Church calendar, we are hanging out in the time between Easter Sunday and Pentecost. We have the advantage of history to make this an exciting and encouraging time. We read the post-resurrection stories – Jesus appearing to His disciples, followers, and the two on the road to Emmaus – with hope in our eyes and joy in our hearts. But, what history can sometimes keep from us are the anxiety, fear, loneliness, and doubt that Jesus' followers must have felt in the days following His resurrection.

Imagine it. You begin to hear stories of people “seeing” Jesus resurrected, and you wonder many things – Is it true? What does this mean? Why has He not appeared to me? What’s next? Where do we go from here? The tension of it all is thick in the air, in your conversations with other believers, and even in your own heart.

Though we have all of the advantages of knowing the past 2,000 or so years of history, we still can feel the same tension, doubts, and fears. We still ask ourselves those same questions – Is it true? What does this mean? Why has He not made himself known to me? What’s next? Where do I go from here?

If your heart is one that is thick with the tension of faith and anxiety, rest in the hope of the Holy Spirit. Know that God has sent a Helper to be His presence with you, to guide you in all of your ways, and to give you peace. Mind the presence of God even in the thickness.

Words from Carla

A Mother's Heart is a Forever Gift

Since Mother's Day is approaching, I wanted to take the next two weeks and talk about mothers. The word Mom, Mommy, Mama, Mother can evoke hundreds of thoughts and emotions. Words are inadequate to describe those who hold the coveted title of Mom. Much of a Mom's life is lived either on the mountaintop or in the valley. The struggle to stay on top is continuous. Even those moms who outwardly seem to have it all together probably do not, in reality!

Few of us understand that when we accept the challenge of motherhood, it is something that remains with us for life. (This can be biologically, through adoption, or taking on the roll in the absence of a parent.) You are unalterably bound to dimply knees, peanut butter smeared faces, pigtails, rocks in pockets, sleeves that can wipe a face, nose, or anything that bothers, lots of laundry, and answering numerous "Why" questions. Motherhood changes you.

The change in your life is physical. You never knew you could be so tired or that you could eat in so many different positions. The change is mental. You not only have to plan what you are going to wear, but you also have to hunt shin guards, tutus, and go to 50 different stores looking at prom dresses only to return to store number 1 to make your purchase. The change is emotional. You never dreamed you could cry over an off pitch solo of "Silent Night" or a missed bid for cheerleader, a team sport, or your child's broken heart. You do not worry about heart attacks; you worry about heart bursts - your heart swells every time you see a stray curl on a forehead or smell the scent of baby powder.

The change is spiritual. You never knew God could be so close. You see Him everywhere and at all hours of the day and night! You see him in the face of your child. There could not possibly be any more wonderful glimpse of His glory here on this earth than what is seen through the eyes of a mother gazing on her children.

I pray that if you are a mother you never lose sight of the One who created Moms in the first place and may you be inspired to bless others. Keep your relationship with God strong to keep your faith alive and renewed!

"Her children arise and call her blessed."
Proverbs 31:28

Thank You Volunteers

Thank you to all those who volunteer their time and talents to watch over our preschoolers. Every age is important and it blesses my heart to see Wednesday after Wednesday, Sunday after Sunday those faithful workers who are here and serve with a cheerful heart. That is a true sign of a servant's heart and you are a powerful witness to those who enter the preschool area! May God be glorified through you!

Love, Carla
