Following Jesus...

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor
jroberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff__Roberts

Chap Clark began his sermon, this past week, with the question of “what type of church do we long to be?” In his sermon he spoke of a very powerful man who got down on his knees and engaged a child in conversation. Dr. Clark illustrated for us, a congregation, where we all find ourselves in the same place. We all are debtors forgiven by God. This fall, I have been preaching on the church. My series is entitled “It Takes a Church” and we have considered how a church needs to be accountable to God and each other, accepting of each other and how a church is only as strong as our willingness to be servants.

This week, we turn our attention to the idea of process. We sometimes forget that a church is not a static institution. The church is always changing. It is a living organism and not a dead organization. The local church only exists to the extent that we exist within it and choose to be a part of it. Since we as human beings are always in process, thus the church is also always in process and change. As human beings we go through some changes that are rapid and others that are hardly noticeable, but we change. We can watch a 9th grade boy grow several inches in just a few months. The change is rapid and evident to all. We sadly watch ones we love go through disease and witness rapid weight loss and weakness. Sometimes a very vibrant person is rapidly reduced to noticeable weakness by diseases.

Then there are those changes that are so slow and gradual. How many times do we see a picture of ourselves and in that moment realize we have aged? How many times has a certain glance in the mirror revealed another sign of the aging process? Sometimes we are shocked to see ourselves as we really are. Change comes to us physically.

In the same way we experience change in every area of life. There are sudden and gradual changes professionally, personally and spiritually. In Philippians 3, the Apostle Paul speaks of the changes that God is bringing to his life. He writes:

“Not that I have already obtained all this, (the power of the resurrection) or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me.... forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus.”

Did you know...

We are in need of folks who would be willing to drive them from 7:00-9:00 pm one Thursday evening every six weeks or so. Please contact RaNada (919-787-3740 or rthornton@tbcraleigh.com) in the church office if you would like to volunteer, or if you would like more information.

This is not only true for us as individuals, but also as a congregation. The church, just like each of us, is always in change and we must always be open to what the Spirit of God is doing. We together are always in transition and if we place our eyes on Christ we are pressing toward the goal that God has called us too. I want us to consider this week, what it means to us as individuals and as a congregation to be in process.

I look forward to seeing you in worship as we gather to glorify God, and open our hearts and minds to the transforming Spirit.

Be Part of a WIHN-ing Team

October 26 - November 2

Wake Interfaith Hospitality Network, Inc. (WIHN) provides professional case management as well as food, shelter, and transportation for homeless families as they work to restore their independence. WIHN is one of the few agencies in the area committed to helping homeless families stay together. This is accomplished through the support of churches in Wake County that are part of the WIHN program. Trinity became a part of this network in July, 2005. One week each quarter, we host selected families at our church. The WIHN Lead Team needs volunteers to help in a variety of areas, including Overnight Host & Hostess, morning & afternoon Van Drivers, groups to provide Evening Meals, and others to spend time in the evenings with the Children to give the parents a break. There are opportunities for individuals, Care Groups and Sunday School Classes. Sign-up sheets are posted at the Registration Center in the Narthex. WIHN brochures are also available which describe each volunteer position and whom to contact with questions. Information about the WIHN organization can be found at their website: www.wihn.org. Contact Jenny Wilson, Trinity's WIHN Coordinator, at 919-271-5967 or jenny-wilson@att.net for more information about volunteering.

Music Ministry

Rev. Steve Byers, slbyers@tbcraleigh.com

It was such a joy to hear the Konrad family share in worship this past Sunday morning. Rarely do we see a family of musicians all together leading in the music of worship, and it was a first for me personally. Thank you, Konrad family, for being a part of our music ministry at Trinity. We are glad you are here sharing your gifts in music and ministry!

Attention Children's Choirs Parents

Parents of Children's Choirs, the Music Makers (grades 1-3) and the Young Musicians (grades 4 and 5) sing this coming Sunday morning in the 10:55 am worship service. This Wednesday night is very important to have your children here in rehearsal. Please consult your choir newsletter or feel free to call or email the directors, Amy and Steve Byers, for additional information. You will be getting a postcard reminder this week.

Preschool Choir Worker Needed

Wednesday Nights

We are still in need of one person to help with the Preschool Choir on Wednesday nights. As a class fills with students, so must the leadership in order to cover the needs of all of them. Parents of our preschoolers, would you pray about being involved in your child's musical experiences and step up to leadership? Your church needs you! Sally Melvin is the director of this choir. You can contact me in the church office or email me at slbyers@tbcraleigh.com to get you involved in this important area of our music ministry.

It's not too late to enroll in a choir at Trinity!

All of our children's choirs, student choirs, and ensembles have begun rehearsals for this year. Email me if you are interested in getting involved in our music ministry...it is a wonderful place to build relationships and serve the Lord together!

Words from Christian

When I was about 14 or 15, my dad and I were going to help with the Special Needs Ministry that met during the 11 o'clock service at my home church. I was excited because I was going to be able to help out with a new ministry and play with kids.

All was going well until my father asked me to pop a bag of popcorn for the kids. As I had done the other countless times I made popcorn, I put the bag in the microwave and pushed the popcorn button. After what was no more than a minute, I began to smell that dreaded smell of burning popcorn. So, I quickly opened the microwave and the bag only to find a bag full of black popcorn, which I proceeded to throw in the trashcan not thinking anything of it.

I will never forget the sounds that followed... First was the fire alarm. After hearing this, I ran back to my dad to say, "It wasn't me!" Minutes later was the sound of a number of foot steps, which were either coming from the firemen or the congregation evacuating the sanctuary. Needless to say, I was too nervous to go upstairs and find out.

In the end, no fire or harm came out of the incident. I did not find a new area in which the Lord was calling me to serve that day; and oddly enough, I was never invited back to help with the Special Needs Ministry. However, the Lord was still at work. What did come out of that experience was a new relationship with a member of the special needs class named Brian. Even now, (ten years later) Brian will still stop me in the hallway at church to ask me if I have cooked any popcorn lately. I am truly thankful for the friendship and fellowship that resulted from that day.

The Lord is at work in the oddest of situations. At the time, the situation was just stressful and embarrassing. There are a lot of days where we walk through life stressed and embarrassed; yet when we set our eyes on Christ, we see that the Lord is constantly at work. As we go through the week, we should look for God to show up in these unexpected places and situations. You will be surprised to find the blessings that come out of these odd situations.

Words from Carla

Seeing through the eyes of a child is a remarkable thing. We all have seen through a child's eyes because we all were children once. The wonder and excitement in a child's eyes is a sign of expectation and knowing something wonderful is happening or about to happen. When I read scripture I am constantly reminded to receive it with a "childlike faith". A faith that is humble, full of trust, and putting aside all prejudices.

When to Keep Preschoolers Home

- A fever (100 degrees or more in the armpit, 101 degrees orally, or 102 degrees rectally). Child should be fever free for 24 hours.
- Diarrhea
- Severe coughing
- Two or more episodes of vomiting within the past 12 hours
- Red eye with white or yellow eye discharge, until 24 hours after the treatment
- Yellow or green nasal discharge

Mark 10:15 reads "Truly I tell you, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a child will never enter it." Should we read God's Word with expectation and wonder that His goodness, grace, and love is so powerful it can overcome all we worry and stress about? Should we enter each day with humbleness and putting aside all prejudices? Absolutely! We should welcome each day with wonder and expectation knowing God is with us and something great is about to happen. Look for the blessings He provides big and small in each and every day! His blessings are all around us!
