Deepen The Ties That Bind

Dr. Jeff Roberts, Senior Pastor • jroberts@tbcraleigh.com • Twitter: @Jeff_Roberts

Easter has come and gone and the natural question is, “Now what?”

When we look to the Biblical accounts after the resurrection story, we find stories of disciples who struggled to believe and discover what they were to do next.

Sometimes they held up, isolated from others. Other moments we find the disciples returning to routines and activities, which are familiar and comfortable.

Yet Jesus, over and over again, calls them to something new. He will not let the disciples simply go back to their homes and resume life like nothing had happened.

The most important moment in history had occurred. The resurrection was not the end of the story but the beginning of the story. Jesus was now sending them out with the good news of the gospel.

As we have now passed through another Season of Lent, Holy Week and Easter, we must ask what difference has this made in our lives. It is all too easy to sing, “Alleluia, Christ is risen” and then go back to the same concerns, fears, and priorities we had before Easter. It is true Easter coming on the calendar did not change the concerns we have at work. It is true that that Easter celebration did not change every fear we have about health, our family or our culture. The question is not did Easter change my circumstance but can the reminder that Jesus is Lord change my point of view concerning my everyday living? How does the faith that Jesus is alive change how we think about everyday encounters with others? How does our faith in the resurrection change the way we view the temporary events of our world? How does our faith in Jesus change the way we pass through difficult and joyous seasons of life?

Easter has come and gone but resurrection must be a daily reality in our lives. I challenge you to resist going back to living after Easter like nothing has happened. I challenge you to see life through the hope and life that the resurrection of Jesus promises.

One of the great reassurances of the post resurrection story is the word that Jesus is going before us. In the Gospels of Matthew and Mark, the disciples are told to go to Galilee and there they would see Jesus. In John’s gospel we find the story of the encounter by the Sea of Galilee. Jesus was essentially saying, “I am going back where it all began. I am going back to where you live everyday life. Follow me there and you will see me.” This promise is still true for us. Jesus goes before us and we find Jesus alive and well in the very place where we live, work and play. Look for the resurrected Lord this week and let Jesus’ presence transform the place where you find yourself. After all, because of Easter, every day is resurrection day.

OPERATION INASMUCH: Teaching our kids about Serving Others

A few weeks ago we had a Missions Moment in Mission Friends. This time we talked about serving and helping others! We learned there are MANY ways to serve others: cleaning, singing, reading, painting, making/bringing food, construction and so so much MORE. Then we made our "serving tree" with ways WE can serve others around us.

Parents, our church-wide Operation InAsMuch Day is coming up on April 21 and there are projects for FAMILIES to do TOGETHER! I hope you will take the opportunity to join us that day so that we can continue to teach our children, no matter how small, how to be the hands and feet of Jesus! Contact me at kmedlin@tbcraleigh.com if you are looking for ideas for how your family can serve that day! "Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me." Matthew 25:40
