

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH

TRINITY TIMES

Belong. Become. Be.

The events surrounding the war between Israel and Hamas has the whole world on edge. We have been sickened by the brutality of the initial attack on the innocent. We know that in our world, the response of the Israeli government must be to protect itself, yet we are disheartened at the thought of those who will suffer and die even though they would rather live-in peace. The terrible suffering of war is nothing new to our world and has been a part of Israel's story throughout its existence. So, we pray for those who will make decisions and even in our acceptance of war in this moment we still pray for peace to come.

I am also aware that because this is happening to Israel there are a lot of questions on whether this is the "end of times". To be sure, apocalyptic literature in the Bible is referencing events that occur to Israel and those who surround Israel. There are many who believe that we are seeing the unfolding of prophecy in scripture. The truth is that we are always seeing the unfolding of God's promises and God's plan for this world.

In our statement of faith at Trinity we write this about "last things."

God, in the fulfillment of time will in God's own way bring the world to its appropriate end. According to the promise of Jesus, Christ will return, and the dead will rise again, and all will be judged in righteousness. The fulfillment of time is known only by God the Father. Matthew 16:27, 24:36, 25:13; Mark 8:38; Luke 12:35-40, 17:20-25, 21:27-28; John 14:1-3; Acts 1:7 & 11; Romans 14:10-12; 1 Corinthians 4:5, 15:12ff; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18; 1 Timothy 6:14-16; Hebrews 9:27-28; & Revelation 3:11, 20: 1-22:13

I have always loved that statement because there is an affirmation of scripture and at the same time an expression of humility concerning "last things". Jesus would tell us that only God the father knows the time of such events. I am always hesitant to claim I know what Jesus said only God the father knows. When Jesus gives instructions concerning his coming in Matthew 24, he reminds his disciples that they should be found "doing what the master has instructed them to do". We are instructed to "watch" that is pay attention and be ready by being faithful.

In this time of uncertainty in our world, there is so much we cannot control. So, what can we do? We can be faithful to the commands of Jesus. We can live as Jesus told us to live. We can love and forgive each other and love our neighbors. We can share the good news of God's love through Jesus with others. We can pray for peace in our world. We can release our anxiety to God for surely our ultimate citizenship is not in this world but in the Kingdom of Heaven. We can know that God will bring all things to its appropriate end.

Revelation ends with these words:

He who testifies to these things says, "Yes, I am coming soon."

Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

The grace of the Lord Jesus be with God's people. Amen.

SABBATICAL LEAVE | October 9 - November 11

I attended a session at Montreat Conference Center in Black Mountain, NC at the beginning of my sabbatical. The Mountains are always inspirational and provide a sense of peace and reflection within me. This conference was no different as it dared to look at some of the Shifts within American religion and mainline denominations. My interest and reflections I offer to you.

Our keynote speaker Diana Butler Bass shared that Covid seemed to kill the “We can’t do it that way” and impressed upon us the “We must try another way”. This is a unique shift in church life. It may have been challenging but provided a breath of fresh understanding to the way we have always done church. We shifted. We were forced to adjust. We scurried to go online, to provide worship in the home, small groups by zoom and make contacts in a new way. We opened a new avenue of using our data base. We learned new skills. What one could label as a negative shift turned out to be a blessing.

We were challenged to consider familiar shifts, discover invisible shifts, and accept the shifts we may not want to discuss or embrace. The Shifts we cannot see often lead us into more trust. No one shift occurred than people in churches wanting to have conversations around race, acceptance of the other and who we call as leaders within our congregations. Tough conversations are not a typical mainline activity, but if one church can do it, so can others. We can be challenged to be Christ like. When we confront or deny what we know is true but don’t want to face, we find that we must face it. And we shift.

Two issues were presented as examples of what most unchurched or young adults are looking for in a faith community. These would be Truth and Convictions. Truth implies discovering Jesus. That even Jesus stood before Pilate and declared “I came into the world to show truth.” What is the truth we often ask? Do we really want to know the truth or share the truth? What is the voice of the church regarding Truth? Are we ready to accept the truth as revealed in Christ? We need to love and accept others like Christ. However, the world we live in has everyone questioning everything. And we do not all share the same framework of knowledge.

Convictions are also not often seen in mainline churches. We tend to choose comfortableness. WE have some basic convictions, but none that step on toes or challenge the status quo. Two studies in 1969 and 1972 led to the conclusion that a gap was developing between clergy and laity. Clergy are feeling called to change the world and laity wants to be comfortable. This creates an imbalance, and the next generation wants to know our convictions. Where are we now? What convictions are worth exploring and championing? One truth is that religious identity is being replaced by political identity. Throughout our American history religion and political identities were joined. To be a good American, one must be a good Protestant, Catholic or Jew. All were opposed to the King (revolutionary war), all were opposed to communism (1960’s). Now, it seems that political identity has emerged as our main social identity and the mainline denomination may be suffering.

A VERY WELCOME (HOUSE) CHRISTMAS

For the last few years, Welcome House Raleigh (WHR) has collected Christmas Bags for its community of families. Follow the QR Code Below to find the items needed for each bag.

Last year, we committed to 4 bags and delivered 8 of them. This year, we are extending this opportunity churchwide, and hope to be able to supply 20 bags.

There are 2 ways that you or your class can help this year:

1. You can agree to purchase the items for one or more bags. Please deliver the filled bags to the TBC office no later than Sunday, Dec 10.
2. You can collect money to fund a bag or bag(s). My "back of the envelope" estimate is $200 per bag. Money should be given to Joy or Lydia by Dec 10.

Please let Lydia (ltatum@tbcraleigh.org) or Joy (joyhodge@live.com) know how many Christmas bags your class or individuals wish to provide. We need to communicate those numbers to WHR for their planning.

Many thanks,
Joy Hodge Blashaw

CHILDREN'S DAY 2023

This year our theme for Children's Day is the beatitudes. The beatitudes sum up Jesus' teaching about what it means to live as a child of God's kingdom. Each Beatitude begins with "Blessed..." It's important to understand in Jesus' time, to be blessed meant to be happy to the fullest and greatly honored. The beatitudes can be found right at the beginning of a long passage of teaching by Jesus in Matthew's Gospel, known as the Sermon on the Mount. Just as Moses taught the people of Israel from the mountain after he had received the Commandments, so Jesus begins his ministry by going up a mountain and teaching his disciples.

Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called children of God.

Blessed are those who suffer persecution for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Some of these sayings are difficult to understand, and some are uncomfortable for us today as they would have been to Jesus' first hearers. Looking at how Jesus lives them out himself is the best way of understanding what they mean. As we prepare for Children's Day on October 29th, I hope your family will spend time studying and talking about the beatitudes. If your child isn't a part of this day, that's okay too. You can still study this together as a family. The beatitudes are complex. They are hard to live out but they are also very beautiful. They describe what it means to live by a set of standards, callings and attitudes that go way beyond the observation of rules or the keeping of the law. This is what life looks like when you are truly Christ-like.

WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO THIS SPECIAL DAY!
