

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH

TRINITY TIMES

Belong. Become. Be.

I am delighted to inform you that we have a candidate for our Associate Pastor for Student Ministry. After several months of gathering resumes and interviews, our search team voted unanimously to bring a candidate to the congregation for approval of this important position in our church. I would like to outline the process we will use as we proceed.

Rev. Brooks Warren will share more information about our candidate in our January 21st Church Conference at 7:00 p.m. in the Sanctuary. That night you can ask questions about the search and Rev. Warren will provide information about the candidate's qualifications and our search team's deliberation and conclusion. (We will not be able to share the candidate's name or current position during this meeting due to professional courtesy and respect for the candidate's current congregation.)

A Special Called Church Conference will occur on Sunday February 4, 2024, for the purpose of calling our candidate. A vote will be taken in both worship services.

The details of the "Call Weekend" will be as follows:

Saturday February 3, 2024

Candidate and family will meet with Student Ministry Committee for Lunch at Noon in Underground.

Candidate and family will be available to greet church members from 2p.m. to 5p.m. in Fellowship Hall. This is an opportunity for anyone in the church to come and meet the candidate in an informal setting.

TBC LIBRARY NEWS A BELMONT MANSION NOVEL SERIES

To create something that will last is Claire Laurent's most fervent desire as an artist. It's also her greatest weakness. When her fraud of a father deals her an unexpected hand, Claire is forced to flee from New Orleans to Nashville, only a year after the War Between the States has ended. Claire's path collides with that of Sutton Monroe, and she considers him a godsend for not turning her in to the authorities. But when they meet again and he refuses to come to her aid, she realizes she's sorely misjudged the man. Trading an unwanted destiny for an unknown future, Claire finds herself in the middle of Nashville's elite society and believes her dream of creating a lasting impression in the world of art may finally be within reach. All that Sutton Monroe holds dear lies in ruin. He's determined to reclaim his heritage and to make the men who murdered his father pay. But what he discovers on his quest for vengeance reveals a truth that may cost him more than he ever imagined.

All three books in this series by Tamera Alexander, A Lasting Impression, A Beauty So Rare, and A Note Yet Unsung, are available on the shelf in the TBC Library and are also available as eBooks in the TBC Digital Library.

In order to access eBooks, you must have a TBC Library Card and request to be on the eBooks approved list. In order to use eBooks you will have to add the Libby by OverDrive app to your smartphone, tablet, laptop, desktop, or Kindle. Faithful Intergenerational Apprenticeship

By: Dr. Andy Jung

Over the years, I've been fascinated with generational studies. Though generational studies have to be used carefully to not put everyone in the generation in the same box or to place unhelpful labels on a group of people, it can shed light on general understanding of our culture and trends to look for in the future.

I have a deep passion for our younger generations and what is important to them in faith development. As many of you know, my full-time job is with Fuller Youth Institute (FYI) as the senior director for church engagement and business operations. At FYI, our mission is to equip diverse leaders and parents so faithful young people can change our world. I believe in our mission wholeheartedly. I believe our young people will change the world for good and help bring God's kingdom on earth as it is in heaven. (When I say "young people," I'm referring to teenagers and young adults who are Millennials (1980-1994), Gen Z (1995-2012). In case you were wondering, our children born after 2013 are known as Gen Alpha.)

Yet, as much as I believe in our young people, I also believe in those of us who are in the older generations (Gen X (1965-1979), Boomers (1946-1964), and Silent (1925-1945) generations). We desire the best for our children and grandchildren. We want them to know Jesus, love Jesus, and serve Jesus everyday. (Everyday YES to Jesus!) Sometimes, we just have a hard time understanding the younger generations and connecting with them in meaningful ways.

I've titled my column "Faithful Intergenerational Apprenticeship" because that is the vision I have for the Church and for Trinity Baptist. Healthy and thriving churches have healthy intergenerational relationships as their DNA. Most churches are multigenerational churches but thriving churches move from being multigenerational to intergenerational through meaningful relationships across all generations. As we care for one another and learn from those who are younger and older, we are apprentices of each other and most of all, we are apprentices of Jesus.

There will be more to come in future editions of Trinity Times but for now, I want to invite you to consider doing one thing the next time you are at church – find someone in a different generation you do not know well and introduce yourself. Have a meaningful conversation with them. The first step of developing intergenerational relationships is to SEE one another. May God help us to SEE one another in this new year.
